WELCOME TO OUR STRUCTURES EDITION

A railroad is more than rails and rolling stock—it’s the communities, industries, and landmarks that surround them. Every depot, factory, storefront, and farmhouse helps tell the story of the people and businesses your trains serve.

Beginning on page 4, explore this month’s Walther’s Cornerstone® feature and discover just a few of the more than 500 HO and N Scale structure kits and accessories available to bring your layout to life.

COVER STORY: As freight cars rumble beneath their feet, pedestrians make their way across the newest Walther's Cornerstone Pedestrian Bridge (933-3559), safely linking both sides of a busy industrial district. Whether connecting factories, stations, neighborhoods, or city streets, bridges like this became a familiar sight anywhere railroads and people shared the same landscape. Designed to span up to four tracks, this new HO Scale kit will add realistic operation and visual interest to countless layout scenes.

Few structures capture the charm of small-town America quite like a gazebo. A place for concerts, conversations, and quiet afternoons, these familiar landmarks have welcomed generations of visitors to parks and public squares. Add one to your layout (933-4206), and you'll instantly create a destination where people naturally gather and life seems to slow down for a while.

NEW Heavyweight Passenger Cars

Check walther's.com for current pricing.

Whether it's a steam or classic diesel-powered passenger train or a modern excursion, the latest Walther'sProto Heavyweight Passenger Cars are standout additions to any HO Scale passenger fleet. Based on prototypes built by the world-renowned Pullman Company and American Car & Foundry, these cars were designed for decades of dependable service. Many Pullman sleepers and baggage cars also served with specially built troop cars in military trains during World War II and the Korean War.

As newer equipment arrived, many were repainted to match updated passenger consists, while others found second careers in Maintenance of Way (MOW) service. Today, numerous heavyweight passenger cars remain preserved, continuing the legacy of these iconic railroad classics.

Features:

- Detailed interior
- Factory-installed LED lighting (Baggage car is unlighted)
- Sprung diaphragms for realistic operation
- Factory-installed grab irons
- Highly detailed underbody with separate brake gear, steam traps, generator and more
- Correct Pullman trucks with 36" RP-25 turned metal wheels
- All-wheel electrical pickup for uninterrupted, constant-intensity LED lighting
- Proto MAX™ metal knuckle couplers
- Minimum radius 24"

NEW 50' Pullman-Standard Troop and Bunk Cars

Check waltersproto.com for current pricing.

Add an important piece of American railroad history to your H0 Scale layout with WaltherProto 50' Pullman-Standard Troop Sleeper and ACF Troop Kitchen Cars. As the United States entered World War II, the nation's passenger car fleet was pushed to its limits while the military required the rapid movement of increasing numbers of troops. Pullman-Standard answered the call by building Troop Sleeper and Kitchen Cars, serving alongside traditional heavyweights like the 12-1 Sleeper and 70' Baggage Cars. These special-built troop cars made up military trains that moved personnel across the U.S. during World War II and the Korean War.

Troop Sleepers accommodated 29 soldiers plus a Pullman Porter, while Kitchen Cars featured a coal-fired stove and dedicated food preparation area. After the war, many were sold as surplus and rebuilt for service as express boxcars, or Maintenance of Way (MOW) equipment such as bunk cars.

NEW 34' War Emergency Hopper

Check walthers.com for current pricing.

Add an essential piece of World War II and transition-era railroad history to your H0 Scale freight roster with the WaltherProto 34' War Emergency Hopper. Introduced by the War Production Board in 1942, these cars were designed to conserve critical steel for military production while meeting the growing demand to haul coal and other vital commodities across the home front. To reduce steel consumption, they featured composite construction with wood sides and end slopes, while steel was reserved for the frame and brake equipment, with some cars using thinner steel, not vital for war production, for body construction. Although built as a wartime solution, many remained in revenue service for years after World War II.

Features:

- Factory-installed wire grab irons
- Detailed underbody brake equipment
- Added weights for excellent tracking, loaded or empty
- RP-25 turned metal wheelsets
- Proto MAX™ metal knuckle couplers

NEW 66' Heavy-Duty 4-Truck Flatcar

Check walthers.com for current pricing.

When exceptionally heavy or oversized loads need to move, railroads rely on specialized equipment like the 66' 4-Truck Heavy-Duty Flatcar represented by this new WaltherMainline model. With a load limit of 240 tons or more, this flatcar often operates in small fleets assigned wherever heavy-haul service was required. Typical loads include heavy industrial machinery and boilers as well as electrical generators and transformers. Many of these cars also haul construction equipment and military vehicles. The flatcar's distinctive four-truck design evenly distributes weight, allowing railroads to safely transport loads that exceed the limits of conventional freight cars.

Features:

- Factory-installed details and grab irons
- Heavy die-cast metal construction for excellent tracking
- RP-25 turned metal wheelsets
- Proto MAX™ metal knuckle couplers

NEW 37' Greenville 100-Ton 2-Bay Hopper

Check walthers.com for current pricing.

Add some hauling capacity to your H0 Scale aggregate operations with the WaltherMainline Greenville 100-Ton 2-Bay Hopper. Introduced in the 1970s, these rugged hoppers were designed to transport dense bulk commodities such as gravel, crushed stone, and sand, materials that required the high capacity offered by an open-top car rather than the weather protection offered by a closed top car of comparable size. A common sight on aggregate trains, and local freights, many Greenville 100-Ton 2-Bay Hoppers remain in service today.

Features:

- Separate factory-applied door and brake details
- Heavy die-cast metal underframe for excellent performance and tracking, loaded or empty
- Correct 36" turned metal wheelsets
- Proto MAX™ metal knuckle couplers
- Add the Chooch® Gravel Load 2-Pack designed specifically for these cars (214-7292, sold separately)

Laying your turnouts and crossings has never been easier with WaltherTrack H0 Scale Turnout and Crossing Roadbed Pads. Made from the same smooth, sound-absorbing, and easy-to-use material as other WaltherTrack roadbed products, these preformed pads simplify the installation of turnouts and crossings while providing a consistent roadbed profile. Designed to eliminate time-consuming shaping and sanding, they're available for No. 4, 5, 6, 8, and 10 turnouts, as well as 90-, 60-, 45-, and 30-Degree crossings. All turnout pads include a separate matching pad to fit under turnout throwbar and switch stand details.

WaltherTrack Turnout and Crossing Roadbed Pads feature:

- Dense, closed-cell foam construction
- Compatible with most H0 Scale cork roadbed profiles
- No additional sanding required
- Can be finished with ballast or foam-safe paints

ENERGIZE YOUR LAYOUT

WITH WIND TURBINE TECHNOLOGY

The models behind a modern skyline

A familiar sight along rural horizons, towering wind turbines quietly generate power for cities and towns across the country. Getting them there is no small feat—railroads move massive components like extra-long turbine blades on specialized, heavy-duty flatcars.

Now you can capture this unmistakable modern scene in HO scale with wind turbine kits, 110-ton flatcars, turbine blade loads and realistic technician figures.

WALTHERSMAINLINE®

BIG POWER FOR ANY DUTY

The EMD SD50s are back!

HO WaltherMainline® EMD SD50 – Fall 2026 Delivery

910-10350, 910-10379 to 910-10392 Standard DC

910-20350, 910-20379 to 910-20392 ESU Sound & DCC

Whether you're modeling the fast freights of the 1980s or the regional workhorses of today, the EMD SD50 is the ideal heavy hauler for your layout. First introduced in 1980, the EMD SD50 could be found throughout North America on service ranging from coal drags to fast intermodals. In more recent times, many have made their way to leasing fleets, regionals, and shortlines where they continue to earn their keep to this day.

These models feature LED lighting, correct intake, truck, and dynamic brake details, along with the WaltherProto® drive for exceptional pulling power. These models also come equipped with a pre-installed speaker and are available with standard DC or with ESU Sound and DCC. Order yours today from walters.com or your favorite hobby dealer!

Sound & DCC and Standard DC versions are available in two roadnumbers each of the following roadnames: Conrail, CSX, Lake States Railway, Missouri Pacific† (UP† paint), Seaboard System, Reading & Northern, Utah Railway, Undecorated.
